

NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct

The NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct has been developed for all registered members participating in competitions run by the NBA as well as all registered members representing the NBA in Representative games.

A Registered member’s public behaviour will be closely observed by others as he/she represents his/her Club, Association or State in organized competition. Any behaviour that is unlawful or disrespectful to others is an insult and indictment of everyone associated with the team.

If, on report of an umpire, team or association official, there is a serious breach of the NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct, the registered member will be cited to appear before the NBA Judiciary Committee and shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed by the NBA Disputes Procedure.

It shall be the duty of each Club to ensure all their registered members have read signed and aware of the NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct and the procedures and consequences of breaching the Code. The observance of the NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct shall be considered a condition of membership to the NBA.

*All registered members shall at all times compete by the competition conditions and rules and in the spirit and intent contained therein.

*Registered members will not criticise or abuse umpires, opposing registered members or spectators either verbally or by gesture or manner.

*Registered members will show respect for their opponents and their skills.

*No registered member shall use indecent or profane language whilst in uniform at a venue used for the game of baseball. “Uniform” shall include the wearing or display of the Club or Association colours, badges, jackets, etc. which implies an affiliation with the NBA or NSW Country Baseball or any Club under the control of the NBA.

*Registered members shall not abuse equipment or place other registered members, umpires or spectators at risk of injury by throwing bats or helmets etc.

*Registered players shall not engage in any activity which is likely to result in loss or willful damage to property or cause injury to any person.

*Registered players must respect spectators and fellow players by only using change rooms to dress before and after games.

*The use of drugs of any kind is totally banned unless prescribed by a licensed physician.

*Registered members shall not eat or drink on the field of play. The consumption of food and non-alcoholic beverages will be allowed in the dugout.

*Smoking is banned on the field, in the dugout and in all spectator areas. The use of chewing tobacco is forbidden whilst in playing uniform.

*Consumption of alcohol by players while participating in a game is prohibited.

*Any registered player who, in the opinion of an umpire, is under the influence of alcohol will not be allowed to participate in a game controlled by the NBA.

*All registered members must conduct themselves appropriately when using electronic communications to share information with other members or when posting material on public websites connected to their club or the NBA.

* A member protection policy (MPP) has been developed by the ASC to set out the rights and responsibilities of those participating in the sport of baseball. We are committed to ensure that everyone associated with baseball complies with this policy and is treated with respect and dignity and protected from discrimination, harassment and abuse. Each club has an appointed Member Protection Information Officer (MPIO). They are the 'go to' person if you want to discuss problems at your club/association, particularly if you are considering making a formal complaint.

I hereby certify that I have read and agree to follow the NBA Inc. Registered Members Code of Conduct.
